BURGLARS ABROAD; HOUSEHOLDERS PUT THEIR ARTILLERY IN SHAPE

Residence District Invaded; Is Dangerous Business For Thieves; Central Pharmacy Entered.

One or more gentlemen with penchant for petty burglary are seeking sun-bat in Bisbee. For the first time the residence district of the city has been threatened by burglars and in the last few days folks have been getting the artillery in readiness for emergencies. It may be remarked that there are few houses in Bisbee that haven't a weapon of shootable kind around, and it may be added that the few folks are good marksmen and not in the least afraid to shoot, this being just as true of the ladies as of the men. Nor would any residence locality be shocked or go into mourning should the body of a dead burglar decorate the locality some morning.

Last Saturday night some small thief, heading for the real burglar class, removed a screen from a back window at the residence of James Blair on Higgins hill and entering the house helped himself to a few dollars found in a purse in the dining room. He then proceeded through the house to the front door and left by that way. He did not take the trouble to close the door behind him. Mr. and Mrs. Blair were asleep in the front part of the house but were not awakened by the visit of the thief. The first they knew of him was on Sunday morning when they found the front door open and the screen removed from the kitchen window. The removing had been done with a knife.

During Sunday night a sneak thief entered a house in upper Brewery Gulch and stole a purse. A fellow who had been hanging about town several days was subsequently arrested by Constable Parley McRea and locked up. The man proved to be a drug fiend. Witnesses who saw the thief enter the robbed house were taken to the county jail to identify the man under arrest, but declined to do so in a sufficiently definite manner to permit of his being held. He was released Monday night and Tuesday was reported to have been seen in Naro.

Sometime between 7 o'clock and 7 o'clock yesterday morning, a thief or thieves entered the Central pharmacy, breaking into the cash drawer of the register and getting something more than $15. It was thought on first examination that this was all that was taken, but Mr. Black later in the day said that combs, perfume, toilet water and some women's articles to total value of between $25 and $50 had been stolen. The police were working on this case yesterday but up to last night had not made much headway. The Central store was locked up.

Tuesday night at the usual hour by new employees. They failed to shoot the bolts at the top and bottom of the front door, in the opinion of Mr. Black, not being familiar with this need. The look in the middle of the door readily gave way to pressure from the outside, and it was in this manner that entrance was secured. While inside, the thief or thieves closed but did not lock the front door. Departure was taken through the basement and via a trap door to the outside.

When the store employees came down to open up yesterday morning they found the front doors unlocked and promptly telephoned to Mr. Black, who later notified Marshal Watkins. Investigation yesterday developed that Officer Wilmoth tried the front doors of the drug store at 2 in the morning. Officer Gibson was in the same locality at the time and Constable Thomas passed about the same hour. From that time until daylight there were officers almost constantly within sight of the drug store. They saw no one passing of a suspicious character. Report current yesterday that the doors had been noticed standing open about 2 o'clock by an officer, proved entirely erroneous, having grown from misunderstanding of a reply made to an inquiry put while officers were investigating the matter.

Meantime the officers are alert and are making a round-up of suspicious characters. It is considered possible that the thieves who have operated here migrated from Douglas in advance of the carnival company that has been there the last ten days. The followers of this show will get close inspection upon arrival in town.

SENT TO JAIL FOR SHOOTING

Boggs and Ballard Are Held in $1,000 Each by Court; Hassen Is Not Yet Out of Danger.

The reading of charges of assault to kill against Charles Boggs and Frank Ballard, and the release of the Skinner brothers, who were with Albert Hassen at the time he was shot on Tuesday, were the only developments yesterday in the Lowell shooting case.

Boggs and Ballard were each placed under bond of $1,000. This they were unable to raise yesterday and were remanded to jail. At the hearing in Justice Smith's court it was held that the two Skinnners had no connection with the case other than being witnesses of the shooting, and for this reason they were released. No further arrests were made as the police are now convinced that they have rounded up everyone connected with the shooting.

No definite date for a hearing of the case has yet been set and it is probable that it will not be held until Hassen has sufficiently improved to either dictate a statement of his version of the shooting or to be able to appear in court in person. In this latter connection it is not believed that the wounded man will be able to be about for a good while. Although entering some distance below the heart, the bullet that struck him made a serious wound. He was resting easy yesterday but is not yet out of danger.

"INTO THE JUNGLE" MAKES HIT AT ROYAL

"Into the Jungle" the feature attraction at the Royal Theatre last evening, was the chief topic of conversation on the streets after the first performance of this remarkable picture play had been given.

The one thought in the minds of all who witnessed the production seemed to be, "How is it possible to produce a picture of that kind?"

It is indeed a wonderful masterpiece of motion picture art, and is every better and more realistic than the Royal management claimed for it. Too frequently the general public do not understand the risk and danger involved in the taking of pictures of this nature when, as a matter of fact, the personal risks involved are so great that no accident insurance can be secured. It requires courage of real nerve fibre to meet the kings of the forest in the open, whereas the usual so-called "lion tamer" work in cages, with a host of attendants in waiting and many facilities at hand for safety in case the savage beasts become defiant.

The apparent ease with which the Selig players perform the hazardous feats necessary in the unfolding of this wonderful picture is almost beyond belief and the picture itself must be seen for one to realize the actual risks involved.

Tonight this picture will be shown for the last time and all who have not already witnessed the production should make it a point to see it at the Royal at either of the two performances to be given tonight.

"A DROP OF BLOOD" AT LOWELL THEATRE

George Cooper and Julia Swane Gordon share the honors in "A Drop of Blood" an absorbingly interesting drama. The theme is the application of the silent third degree to a man deer against whom the police have secured no evidence. It is the Italian widow of a detective who undertakes the capture. By the systematic placing of drops of red ink in place where the suspected will see them, she breaks him down. It is convincing throughout.

"Along the Nile" is easily the best picture of Egyptian scenes from the viewpoint of general interest that we have ever seen. It is much better than most topical travel pictures. The things that the camera men have chosen to picture show a sense of what was wanted and are fresh as well as full of instruction. We have views of the river's mirror-waters and of temples; but, with these, there are more than is usual interesting, agricultural scenes, household scenes with other views of the days' work, caught in passing. A thoroughly enjoyable offering.

"The Gypsy Brand" -- a Kaleidoscope.

WHETHER IN DRAPED EFFECT ON THE MOTHER'S FROCK, OR PLACED AT LOW WAISTLINE ON THE BOY'S BLOUSE, THE BELT IS AN IMPORTANT FEATURE OF UP-TO-DATE FASHIONS.

Such a knowing air, these prettily draped girdles give to the simplest frock. Perhaps that is the secret of their popularity. One can make a plain little dress of inexpensive material, buy a yard or so of silk, satin or moire, drape it in some new way around the figure, taking care though that the line is becoming, and with little trouble or expense, one can have a dress that is quite good enough for any ordinary day-time wear. If you choose a dress like the illustration, 7547-6381, make it of blue linen or ratine, or linen crepe--a nice gray-blue, with collar and cuffs of white linen hemstitched. Cover some big button moire with silk such as you use for the girdle, and make a flat bow of it for the neck. Black moire would be good, or if you can match up a dark wisteria satin to your material, you will find this a charming contrast. But be sure to take a good size sample of the material with you when you buy the silk.

drama and "Clarence the Cowboy" a Pathé comedy round this mid-week bill at the Lowell.

"The Law and the Outlaw" which comes to the Lowell Theatre this Thursday and Friday promises to surpass all other productions of its kind ever attempted and is already the talk of the district.

Douglas Visitors

Pete Thompson, superintendent of the water department of Douglas accompanied by his chief clerk, F. A. Ahern were visitors here yesterday. They made the trip in Mr. Thompson's auto and when within five miles of the city the car broke down and they were obliged to "hike". They returned home on the train last night and the auto will be towed to Douglas today by Haly & Johnson of that city.

DEMAREE SENSATION OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Demaree.

One of the biggest sensations of the year in the National League is Demaree, twirler for the New York Giants. He is running a neck and neck race with Humphries of Chicago for highest pitching honors in the National League. He has a pitcher's record of 300.

At the bat, however, Demaree is very weak. He has a batting average of .154.
